Dear Mr. Gross:

In reply to your letter of November 12, 1977 in regard to various vaccinations of poultry the procedures are as follows:

For broilers and ducks vaccination against Newcastle and Bronchitis are usually given orally in the water or intranasally by a fogging method.

For turkeys Fowl Pox vaccine is brushed on three or four feather follicles on the breast or leg. Fowl cholera bacterin is given orally in the water for laying hens.

I have enclosed a schedule and circled methods now in use on most farms.

Sincerely,
